in New York City.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)

NEW YORK, May 22.—Miss O. M. Leland, seventy-five years old, a member of the well-known New York family of that hame, hit by an automobile; injuries expected to prove fatal.

Affred G. Vanderbilt, H. H. Vreeland, president of the New York City Railway Company; Isaac N. Seligman, the banker and philanthropist, and William Shriverensurer of Yonkers, arrested at Ardstey on charges of automobile speeding.

An automobile ran into a Madison Avenue car at Fifty-seventh Street. The automobile caught fire and the gasolene and Duty Yielded.

When, enveloped in a cloud of dust, a big red automobile whitzed past Bicycle Polleeman John Dillon, of the West Chester Station, yesterday afternoon, in Pelham Parkway, he quickly turned his wheel about and sped after the violators of the eight-mile-an-hour law. An exciting chase followed through the crowded park drives. The persons in the automobile, evidently unaware that a policeman was trying to overhaul them, kept up at the same merry clip. Finally, however, when the many curves in the rondway necessitated the slowing up of the automobile's machinery, Dillon, perspiring and dust covered, rode alongside and demanded that the party halt in their reckless flight.

In the automobile, beside the chaffeur, were two women, their faces entirely concealed by heavy veils and large goggles. When the automobile came to a standstill they removed those articles and the indignant policeman was confronted by—his wife.

"Well, John, you certainly are not goingto take me to the dark, ugly police station, now, are you, hubby?" she said. "I would not love you half as much loved I not duty more," replied Dillon, sternly. "But," entreated his wife, "you know loved I not duty more," replied Dillon, sternly.

"But," entreated his wife, "you know we were not going so fast, after all."
"Well, I'll let you go this time, but you must not do it again. Possibly my timing watch was a bit too fast anyway."
The automobile belongs to Mrs. W. C. Smith, of Poplar Street, West Chester, The Smiths and Dillons are next door neighbors, and both Mrs. Dillon and Mrs. Smith are close friends. Mrs. Smith was in the automobile yesterday with Mrs. Dillon. Mrs. Smith's husband is a brother of the late "Pittsburg Phil," once a well known race track man.—New York Herald.
